FOR PRESIDENT.

Onr Anter granklin, Dr. HORACE GREELEY,

> OF CHAPPAQUA. And that old I mend, to sage and bland, Our Later Franchin, "-WHITTER,

The Committee of Seventy.

The Committee of Seventy was chosen for the avowed object of ferreting out municipal frauds and bringing their perpetrators to lustice. To have attempted to confer upon It the power to make nominations for office would have dissolved the meeting which originated the Committee, Nevertheless, the Committee has very persistently neglected its appropriate duties, and has of late devoted itself almost exclusively to selecting candidates for city offices. In a word, it has been converted into a mere political machine. This is deplorable in every point of view; and it is particularly so because, just at this critical moment, when union egainst Tammany is all-important, the Committee, so far as regards the two factions of the Republican party, seems to be run in the interest of the shoddvites of the Custom House. For example, the Apollo Hall organization and both wings of the Republican party had agreed upon a full list of candidates for Aldermen. The Committee of Seventy, acting under the lead of MURPHY Republicans, struck from this list six names, including every man thereon, with one exception, who belongs to the orgastration whereof Dr. Honave Guerley is President.

Is there so big a fool in the city as to imagine that the heads of so many friends of the Sage of Chappaqua were brought to the block by accident? Even Dr. GREELEY himself, who has seemed ready to go all lengths for harmony, is constrained to assert, referring to Mr. CHOATE's report on nominations at the meeting of Thursday evening, that "some unwise and some untrue things were said." Our advice to independent voters is to follow the dictates of their own judgment on Tuesday next, whether it comports with the recommendations of the Comm tree of Seventy or not.

Blasphemous Wit.

Mr. JOSEPH II. CHOATE enlivened the proseedings at the Reform meeting in the Cooper Union, last Thursday evening, by the reading of a mock funeral notice, in which a text from the Bible was used to describe the supposed impending political fate of WIL-LIAM M. TWEED. Mr. CHOATE, as he frequently does, succeeded in exciting uproarious hilarity among his hearers; but his the means he employed to obtain it was to himself. When a man, for the sake of being funny, profanes sacred things, and when his auditors greet his efforts with applause, it shows that he and they are alike wanting in religious feeling themselves, and in respect for the religious feelings of others. If the crowd of assembled Reformers had hissed Mr. CHOATE instead of approving his blasphemous wit, they would stand much higher in the opinion of the religious portion of the community than they now do.

We have no idea that Mr. CHOATE was aware of the impropriety of his conduct. He is one of those peculiar persons to whom nothing is sacred, and whom nothing can | honor by electing Horario Servous as their restrain from laboring to provoke a laugh at what ver cost. To gratify his morbid in the district who is not lost to all sense of propensity on this occasion, he has coupled. public duty vote for Horatio Sermone. in the minds of his hearers, and in the minds of all who read the reports of the meeting, words which should be suggestive only of holy thoughts with profane ones. Pernaps he may glory in this achievement; but it makes the judicious grieve for his perver-

Some Friendly Advice for Gen. Grant.

It is a needless waste of the people's money to sund Gen. SHERMAN, Rear Admiral At. DEN, and Col. AUDENBIED to attend GRANT Junior on his contemplated European pleasare tour, as there is ample reason to believe that the young man is perfectly capable of taking remarkably good care of himself. When he was a cadet at West Point, alin obtaining control of the institution, so as the beaten by the robber Tween. to g ve a great deal of trouble to the old and experienced officers who were nominally in charge. When he graduated, his first move ment was to obtain three months' longer leave of a sence than was allowed to any of his classmates, in order to enable him to accept a situation as civil engineer with a railroad company, while continuing to draw his pay as an officer of the army; and next | deed to be perpetrated? Does he prefer to have he got a leave of absence from the railroad company in order that he might go buffalo-Lunding. So it is evident that GRANT Junior is an estate youth, and may safely be trusted to make his own way over the world. I'm er these circumstances it appears to be the height of folly to detail a retinue of ushed army and navy officers to accompany the President's heir apparent on his expenditure of hundreds of thou ands of dellar, for which no adequate return can afford a prefer for giving Grant Junior Breck yn. The Democratic asjority in that dis in the courts of Europe at the public ex and ind pendence of character, and is conpense, teertainly is not necessary to despatch quently no favorite with the rating Ring, which this of war to carry him across the ocean, desires to have all the offices filled with its tools. or to turnish him with a suite of eminent | Mr. Jacons was the copular choice for Senate

The cheapest, best, and altogether the most sensible way to manage the affair, would be for Congress to give GRANT Junior a liberal allowance for expenses, such as Parliament gives to the English princes, and let him go his way, choosing his own course and his own companions. This, doubtless, would suit the young gentleman far better than the plan now proposed; while if he is half as smart at deadheading as his sire, he would be able to make a hig thing financially from his expense account. As matters are going now, the patient public ticket. would probably be satisfied with this arrangement; but President GRANT may rest assured that the project of sending so many high officials abroad to attend his son-or of sending them abroad at the public expense at all -will never command the approbation of the people

Another Present-Taker.

It appears probable that the Hon. W. B. STOKES will be able to present a plausible defence for his action in connection with the Tennessee bounty frauds.

It is said that STOKES stoutly denies hav ing been paid for his services in getting the fraudulent claims allowed; but admits that he received a present of $10,000 for the assistance he rendered to the swindlers who concocted the scheme-a proceeding which he thinks quite legit mate and regular under the present Administration.

STOKES has a show of reason on his side. Certainly it is no worse for a member of Congress to take presents for aiding in the collection of fraudulent claims against the Treasury, than it is for President GRANT to appoint frauds to important offices in consideration of presents made to him.

Ledwith not Fit for a Judge.

If THOMAS A. LEDWITH should be elected to the Supreme Court, everybody acquainted with him knows that he could not discharge the duties of the office.

He would consult some professional friends and confidants, and would have to rely on them for his leval oninions

By such persons his decisions would be sold, no matter how honest LEDWITH himself might be.

Thus the election of LEDWITH would lead nevitably to corruption in the administration of the law.

A novel theory of the cause of the great extent of the fire in Chicago has been broached in England. The London Spectator of Oct. 21

"Mr. J. O. HEYWORTH of Liverpool, as owner of reports in Chicago, expains the destruction of teat city in a line. The roots are of piver, steeped in pitch, and covered with gravel. Sates are strictly protected, and are consequently too dear to use, so that Chica o has really been burbed down in order that Pennsylvanian quarrymen might plunder the public comformably.

The truth is, that slates have been quite extensively used for roofing in Chicago. Their dearness and the consequent preference of the duty laid upon them, but from the labor involved in quarrying and transporting them, and in preparing the frame of the roof to receive them properly. Besides, a fire which crumbled into rains buildings constructed of nothing but stone and iron would scarcely have been stopped by a film of slate an eighth of an inch thick.

All independent cit zens in the Eleventh Assembly District should vote for John V. Garner for member of the Legislature. He is a Republican, but the Custom House faction, not being able to control him, have nominated a candidate against him, in the person of Rusu C. HAWKINS. Votes given to HAWKINS are in effect given to support the Tammany Ring. The canlidate of the Ring is Thomas W. PITMAN, and Republicans who wish to elect him can accounplish it by voting for HAWKINS. But all sincere opponents of Tammany in that district will vote squarely for John V. GRIDLEY.

The independent voters of this city and this State are intent upon rebuking cor.uption at the polls on Tuesday. WORK FOR AN HONEST MAN.

Give the Ring Villaius One Good and Lusting Lesson.
At a meeting of the Black Rock Club, last evening, Mr George R. Grabam delivered a speech, and the Club was in force. Mr. Graham said:

MR. PRESIDENT-I wish to say a few plain, frank, MR PRESIDENT—I wish to say a few plain, frank, honest words for James O'Brise. His character is known to you all as one of steril; g worth, of unfinching honesty, of undoubted integrity, and of boundless been tried. His temperance is a vivtue that has been tried. His charity is known of all men, and is a matter of deeds, not words. If any man in this broad city can with justice be called the Irishman's friend it is James O'Brien. Our business is to endorse this chracter and these virtues, and to elect him to the State Senste; and I say to voy we shall elect him as sure as the san saines on a clear day or the stars to-night.

But we cannot do this by falk; it must be by rook. Nothing on earth worth naving can be had in any other way. The Divine law of lator covers all thin, s good. The diamonds of beauty—her pear is and corat—are sill the reward of labor. In the usine of Heaven will not these astounding rescribites awaken the American people, native and naturalized, to so be pride of country, some exhibition of virtue? If tuess concroses frames do not arouse the indignation and sativity in this convoss, and secure beyond all doubt or contingency the votes of the great body of the honest, industrious, and fragal citiz us of New York for proper men, we must come to the said conclusion that the morals of the records have been sapped, their consciences extinguished, and all since of shame driven out of them by the cornuting influences of love of money, ease, and self-indulance which aways foreshadow the doom of a free people.

It cannot be possible that New York is so theroughly corrupted by the example of the schining since It cannot be possible that New York is so ther oughly corrupted by the example of the shining sin of these villians, that admiration, instead of con-of these vibians, that admiration, instead of contempt, is sell for their conduct; that anybody but theeves and secondress will take bride in associating with them politically or socially; or that anymen with the slightest shade of nonesty or man hood about him will be found to vote for them.

But to occomplish results we must go into the canvass with courage undounted, fearless of threats, earnest, positive, daring, and with something of the sublime wrata with waint Cariet sourged the money-canger from the Temple with a whip of cords. We must drive these rascals from their plunder, with the stug of the contempt of every honest man. With such technical as these, such samestables, we shall advance James O'Brian to the front, carrying the standard of victory, crowned the iront, carrying the standard of victory, crowned with immortal bonors, as having been one of the earnest, true-hearted men who helped to put down Tammany. The Tammany Ring Programme for the Deteat of G'Bricu.

The following appears from a thoroughly credb'e source, to be the Ring's plan for the mismanagement of the election in the Bradley and O'Brien district:
The police will have orders to clear the room at ance occurs. Bradley's mea will, at a designated time, raise a row among themselves. The police will clear the room, and put out the Bradley as well as the O'Brien men. Then the inspectors, two of will clear the room, and put cut the Bridley as well as the O'Brien men. Then the inspectors, two of whom are certainty, while one is probably in the interest of the Ring, will drop as many votes into the oox as the Ring (Bradley) wants to beat O'Brien. It one of the inspectors should be known to be in O'Brien's interest this will be no impediment. When the aisurbance begins be will cortainly turn round to see what is the matter. The tickets will be ready by the dozen, and a hundred ertwo limited cin easily be dropped in behind his back. He will not see it. The police, who may see it, know that their bread and butter is at stake, and will say nothing. This is the game which is to decide the contest in favor of the Ring, in case repealing should not work. Anabo preparations for that interesting process are made, however.

The inspectors are sure to do their work well. They are tools of the Ring, poor, and, for the greater part, cutthrust-like looking men (one served a term in State Prison for burgiary, under the name or "James Kelle"). They want homes badie, and will earn it. In the districts in which o'Brien's majority is supposed to be the largest extensive preparations have been made. Fire Commissioner Hennessey, bradley's prother-in-law, who has been finging out money, has offered $200 to the inspectors who will roil up the largest majority for Bradley in their aistrict.

The names of thirteen gentlemen who are supposed to do work in the interest of the Ring are in the hands of our informant, who is an influential man, urright beyond the slightest suppricon, and who, as a former member of the immany General Committee, knows this information to be correct.

A few of the City Futhers held a at the City Hail. A few of the City Fathers held a caucus for the purpose of urging their claims to reselection, but they were assured by the Tammany leaders that all the members of the Common Conneil are to be renominated with the exception of Mr. Woltman, who is a candidate for another office. Some of the Aidenman doubted the welcome news, until they were assured that their names are on Tammany theets which Secretary Cornelos Corson, Chief of the Bareau of Elections, is printing and charging to the county.

Where is the Committee of Fifty ? Boss McLaughlin's Excise Commissioners are James Carbov, John Pyourn, and Rodney Thurby. Carboy was interviewed by an Eagle reporter not longago, and is reply to an inquiry said that the Commissioners had granted only 2,651 licenses, for which they charged an average fee of $35 each. This would yield a revenue of $91,735. Mr. Carboy further said that they followed up the liquor dealers pretty closely, and did not permit any to sell without a hears. The reporter next interviewed United States Collector Freeland, and he said he collected the Government tax of nearly 5,000 persons in Fronklyn. Here is a large discrepancy between the Excise Commissioners and the Government co-lector. It makes a difference in the revenue of $52.215, which ought to be in the city treasury Where is the Committee of Firty? The Eighth Ward Assembly Candidate

How the Brooklyn Water Board Forces its

Pron to-day's City of Broakiya.

An instance of the trickery employed by the Water Board to force patent ouven-not good property where without regard to their wishes or rights as afforded by their action in respect to the paying of Lafavette avenue. Discovering that their first law would not enable them to effect their using object they are the law cannot be able to the paying of Lafavette avenue.

sufficient to enable the Water Board to "repays" a street with a new (and of course balent) pavement.

The actual obgraity of property ewners on Lafayette avenue with cobble stone or Belgian pavement like that on Faiton avenue, but instead of regarding the wisses of the property-owners, the Water Board extended the time for receiving petitions in order, but a fraudulent device, to force wooden patient ouvements upon the unwilling taxpavers. Fee trick was this:

A single lot of land 20 feet front by 78 feet deep was deeded on the 12th of July, 1870, to 94 persons. Three days later, on the 18th of July, 1870, to 94 persons. Three days later, on the 18th of July, 1870, to 94 persons. Three days later, on the 18th of July, 1870, to 94 persons were added to the minority petition for Natioson pavement, and a "plurality" of names in favor of the measure thus obtained.

These 34 persons have not 25 inch persons of the avenue, less than sufficient to stick unabrick sideways on. Yet their request to have "their" property "improved" was respected in definince of the formal protest of the boar of Afde property owners, and a contract for Nacison was actually given out by the Water Bourd, and the street would have been repayed with that the not been restrained in that by a permanent injunction from Judge Naison.

Of the 94 persons, but two, Ahia B. Thorn and Charles B. Loonis can be found to the City Directory. The rest are supposed to be matts. The mortrage is still unraid, and by process of forecostic the property can be recovered.

The cause of discontent among the musicians stached to the various infantry regiments in New York has at length been removed. At a meeting of the orincost members of the Executive Committee vesterday afternoon it was resolved to corry on the suggestions of Maj. Monizonery and Gen. Aspinwall and make an appropriation for the musicians. The gentlemen forming the Committee on Music, consisting of Messes. Barrows, Betzel, Dancia, and Gen. Slaner, received a certinalism, and he for the purpose, which they will distribute to the various musicians after the parady. Every long else being now settled, the Prince only is wanted.
